How serious are you about employees' wellbeing?

As an employer of choice your company should be serious about the health and wellness of your most valuable assets. Managing the health outcomes of your employees' will translate in improved productivity as well as a decrease in absenteeism.

Your company will benefit richly from a working partnership with a medical scheme such as CompCare, which can be implemented as a fully integrated healthcare solution that delivers tangible health outcomes.

Healthcare cover you can count on

CompCare is a long-standing medical scheme and regarded as one of South Africa's top medical schemes. The scheme has been there for its members for over 40 years, giving them the freedom to pursue their passions, in the knowledge that they are covered by a medical scheme that does not compromise on care.

The power to choose

Choosing an appropriate medical scheme is no small feat, as your choice will determine the quality of care you receive as well as potentially impact your ongoing health and wellbeing. CompCare is known for its highly competitive product range and customer focused service.

Our extras aren't extra

All CompCare plans include market-leading wellness and preventative benefits at no extra cost. These benefits are funded by the scheme and will not deplete your employees' day-to-day or savings benefits.

Wellness and Preventative healthcare benefits

Businesses can unlock considerable value and higher levels of productivity within their operations by paying greater heed to their health and wellness strategies. Now employers can take charge and benefit from CompCare's fully integrated wellbeing and preventative benefits, which are designed to encourage and empower your employees to adopt a healthy, proactive lifestyle.

Emotional wellbeing and support

CompCare provides unlimited professional telephonic emotional health and wellbeing support around-the-clock including referrals for one-on-one counselling.

Adults and children

We offer child rates up to the age of 27 whilst a child dependant is studying and financially dependent on the principal member.

Routine health screenings for men and women at different life-stages are included in the risk benefits of the scheme. Over and above these routine health screenings CompCare also covers a special range of benefits for kids; which include unlimited GP visits and basic dentistry for those under six years of age.

Key Account Manager

At CompCare personalised attention is key – that is why your business will benefit from a Key Account Manager who will visit your workplace on a regular basis to assist with on-site education, training and query resolution.

Prescription exercise and nutritional benefits

CompCare is one of the first schemes to offer a prescription exercise benefit and a nutritional benefit. These provide members with the opportunity to regularly consult the accredited biokineticists and dietitians on the CompCare network. We offer weekly visits by a dietitian at your work premises when ten or more employees enrol on the CompCare nutritional programme.

Annual Wellness Day

An annual wellness day is available to employer groups of ten or more. Services include a range of on-site health assessments. Tests offered include blood pressure, cholesterol and Body Mass Index (BMI), all of which are done on your premises and are covered through CompCare’s preventative care benefits. A comprehensive report is provided to you in order for you to understand the healthcare risks within your organisation.

Wide range of options

From executive cover, to our cost effective Efficiency Discounted options, hospital and discretionary savings options, we’ve got an option to suit any pocket and lifestyle.

Reputation for excellence

Our customer-centric approach is rooted in a value proposition that provides a fine blend of affordability, choice and benefit richness underpinned by a personalised approach.

CompCare’s client-centric, results-driven approach underpins every aspect of the scheme’s service offering, which integrates knowledgeable, competent and experienced people; robust and streamlined processes and a scalable, proven system to bring you healthcare cover you can count on. The scheme is administered by a leading healthcare administrator, Universal Healthcare.
